Here is the biggest thing for farmers and people who live in small towns, that has been brought to public notice yet. This is American Ginseng. Any one, woman or man, can grow it in their back yards with great profit. A rod square of good ground will bring you an income of $600 a year after it is started. If you are not interested you had better get interested and send a one cent stamp to H. E. Roush, 1425 Spruce Avenue, Kansas City, Mo., for catalogue and full particulars.

The big store of Emery, Bird, Thayer Dry Goods Co. is sometimes termed the Western Emporium of Merchandise. The management of the company is regarded as being the best obtainable.

Our people are anxious for the Son. We hope to merit the confidence and consideration of the people because we expect them to pay for it. The Rising Son is $1.50 per year.

ROOMS TO RENT—One furnished and one unfurnished, 2118 Highland avenue.

GLEANINGS.

From Pleasant Green Baptist Church, Located in the rear of Independence and Tracy Avenues, Kansas City, Missouri.

Sunday school opened at its usual hour, 9:30 with a large and appreciative number of pupils. Superintendent being late, Rev. E. M. Wilson opened services. Lesson, "The Law of Love" was taught by Mr. H. J. McDonald. Explanation from cluster leaf by pastor. He explained the subject in such a way that it can never be forgotten by the hearers. His explanation was plain, instructive, and exceedingly impressive. This being the second anniversary of the pastor, Rev. E. M. Wilson, immediately after the Sunday school Deacon Froy of the Metropolitan Baptist church of Kansas City, Kan., assisted by Miss Lillie Taylor of the Pleasant Green Baptist church, led praise service. At the close of said service congregation read tenth chapter of Romans, led by pastor. Choir entered choir box and sang "All Thy Works." Sermon by the pastor, Subject, "The Little Things," 30th chapter of Proverbs, and twenty-fourth verse, which reads as follows: There are four things which are little upon the earth, but they are exceedingly wise. His subject was "Power and Effect of Little Things." He spoke of the advantage of the habit of observation; the momentum and velocity of a fly compared to man with reference to volume and mass. Solomon's observative power, the smallest insect that exists; the atom, molecule, and many other interesting things. He added that the first wrong step was the step to destruction, and that we should watch our words, actions and thoughts and shun the very appearance of evil. Never has a sermon more grand been preached in the history of the church, from general sentiment. Doors of the church were opened for reception of members and while the choir sang "It Pays to Serve Jesus," one Mr. Walter Countee came forward and joined by Christian experience. Collection. Dismissal. Immediately after the service the funeral service of Mr. Davis was held. Twelfth chapter of Ecclesiastes was read by the pastor before he preached the funeral sermon. His text was, "I Saw the Dead, Small and Great, Stand before God, and they books were open, and another book was opened which was the book of life, and the dead was judged out of the books thereof." After the funeral services people were dismissed until 2:30 o'clock.

Service at three o'clock opened by devotional exercises. We had an instructive talk by Rev. Flitts of the Macedonia Baptist church of Independence, Mo. His subject was, "Women's Work in the Church." We had with us the Metropolitan Baptist choir of Kansas City, Kan., and their worthy pastor, Rev. E. A. Wilson. After the choir had entered the choir box and sang in melodious strains one of their selections, which strains of music fell with sweetness upon the ears of the audience, we had a most scholarly and instructive address from their pastor, Rev. E. A. Wilson, subject, "The Church and Pastor." We assure you we had a rare treat. We had with us as a member of the choir Prof. W. G. Woods, editor of the Kansas Record. The Rising Son was represented also in the person of Prof. F. A. Turner.

After his address a paper was read by Mrs. Gertrude White McDonald, subject, "The Future."

B. Y. P. U. opened at its usual hour, 6 o'clock.

We had an interesting lesson. A letter was read by the secretary to the Union from Miss Kathrine Scott, our former secretary, who is now in Oklahoma Territory.

A question was propounded by the members of the Union as to whether it was right for the disciples to pick corn on the Sabbath day, and out of this question grew another question: Was it right for a starving man to obtain food anywhere he could?

These questions will be discussed next Sunday.

Miss Lillie R. Taylor will write a paper on said questions.

Regular services at 7:30.

Choir entered choir box and sang, "A Charge to Keep I Have." Congregation read 21st chapter of Revelation, led by pastor. Choir sang an anthem. Sermon by Brother Moss, of Pilgrim Baptist church of this city. Text, 14th chapter of John, second verse, "I go to prepare a place for you." Subject: This is their comfort in the house of their pilgrimage. The sermon was a good one. Doors of church were opened by pastor for the reception of members, and one, Brother Berryman, came forward and joined by Christian experience. Choir sang, "Go Preach My Gospel." Right hand of fellowship was extended to Brothers Countee and Berryman.

Tuesday evening Mrs. N. B. Oxley and Rev. Carpenter spoke at the church in the interest of the U. O. T. R., one of the grandest organizations in this country to give employment to the Negro.

Thursday evening, Literary. Thursday, Friday and Saturday the B. Y. P. U. Sub. District Convention will be held at this church and all are cordially invited to attend. Program will be interesting. General collection, $30.20. Choir sang, "God Be With You."

Dismissal. G. W. M.

ALLEN CHAPEL.

The bazaar was the grandest effort of the year thus far. Not only was it pretty to the eye but it was managed in such a business like way that the result could not help being all right. It has been years since Allen has been able to boast of having a minister's wife take the lead in anything and make it a success, and by so doing let people see that she is in sympathy with them and willing to do her part toward making her husband's work here a success. We surely feel more in love with Mrs. Scott than ever, and those who stood with her all the way through the work of the bazaar can never forget her patience and kindness to all. Everywhere she went soliciting she was treated with courtesy and received handsome donations. Everyone tried to do their part. Donations were received from parts of Colorado, Ohio, Iowa, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Kansas and Missouri. Miss Anna Jones was her valuable assistant and was on hand at every turn to help make things go successfully. Many valuable donations were sent her also. The Art and Lumen booths were all clear profit, everything, even to the bunting in which they were trimmed was donated. The ladies worked day and night and feel well repaid for their labor by giving the trustees $203.50. When they heard the report they ceased complaining of how tired they were, for they had not been at work for their health nor for the show of the thing, but for the cash, and they were happy. What would any church do without its sisters, anyway?

All of the entertainments of the week were good. The children's drill on Monday was excellent. Miss Hallie Q. Brown was at her best, and a better program has never been listened to. She is simply grand, not only on the stage, but off as well. We were charmed with her lecture Sunday evening. We cannot begin to mention the good things she said. But there was one good thing we will mention, and that was, we should work for God because it was our duty and not to be praised by man. When will we learn to do that? We were pleased to see our dear good bishop and wife, and Presiding Elder Owens with us.

Our pastor preached last Sunday morning one of those good, soul stirring sermons, and the souls that were in harmony with God felt every word that was said. The choir sang the beautiful selection "Saved by Grace," while three persons joined the church and seven came to the altar for prayer. The Lord was in our midst and souls were made happy. We have been having such services right along and God has been blessing us.

The full report of the trustees will be given next week.

Election of trustees will be held next Tuesday night. Every member should be present.

Neighborly Neglect.

Every one knows the dislike of the country person to interfere with his neighbors. A good instance has just occurred in the Midlands. Farmer Jarvis, driving to market, saw through the open door of a barn the body of a neighbor suspended from a beam, and drove on, reviving the tragedy. When he reached the market town he imparted the news with deliberate emphasis, "Good heavens!" exclaimed the other, "and did you cut him down?" "No," said the farmer more slowly still, "he wasn't dead yet."—London Globe

A Delightful Prison.

It is very doubtful if there is anywhere a more delightful prison than that of Tobel, in Switzerland. There are very few guards, not more than one to twenty-five prisoners, and they never think of carrying arms. The prisoners' cells are constantly open, so that the inmates can easily tell at any time what the guards are doing. Moreover, the prisoners are allowed to have paper, ink, newspapers, cider and various dainties from the kitchen, including fried eggs, of which they are very fond.

Insanity Among Women.

A German professor has been investigating the causes of insanity among women and has come to the conclusion that if women are admitted into competition with men the inevitable result will be a tremendous increase of insanity among the women. He finds that the percentage of women teachers who become insane is almost double that of the men teachers.

SPIDER WEBS AND ACOUSTICS.

Scientist Claims There Is Value in the Thin Threads.

There is hope for the spider. Hitherto he has been evilly regarded as a predatory parasite, which toils not though he spins; his toils and his castles in the air have been rudely breached by the long broom of the housemaid. But he may yet come into his own, for Dr. Javal suggests that the gossamer tissues with which this artist among insect craftsmen hang our ceilings may have acoustic virtues. Speaking recently at the opening sitting of the Paris Academy of Medicine in its new hall (which is acoustically deficient), he told a story of a public hall in England which was noted for its acoustic properties until in an unhappy moment the ceiling was given a spring cleaning, and a clean sweep made of all the spider's webs and, with them, of the hall's good name. The doctor does not suggest installations of spiders' webs, but thinks it might be a good thing to hang cotton threads over the auditorium.

WAIVED RIGHTS AS A SON.

True Journalistic Spirit Evincing by Young Corbin.

Gen. Corbin's son is a newspaper reporter in Washington. The other day he was sent to the Adjutant General's office and found the door closed against all comers. He pulled from his pocket a card with his name and the paper he represented on it, and asked the messenger to carry it in. A moment later the messenger returned with the information: "Gen. Corbin says he hasn't time to talk to reporters just now, but if his son Rutherford is outside he will be glad to see him." "I'm not his son Rutherford on this occasion, so I'll just lay for him here as he comes out," replied the youngster, determined not to sacrifice the chance for a "story" to a personal interview with "the governor."

Imitates Mrs. Asor.

A certain comic opera soprano in New York is causing much annoyance to Mrs. John Jacob Astor by imitating that young fashion leader in every way possible. In dress, walk, equipage and manner does the stage celebrity show this "sincerest form of flattery." The climax came last week when the woman of fashion added to her stable accoutrements a horse cover of fine seal leather with the Astor crest wrought inconspicuously in brass in one corner. Every one waited for the burlesque queen to do likewise. The next time she appeared, her horse was covered by the leather trappings. But the crest was as big as a shield.

Looking for a Rival.

Senator Mason's son, Roderick, was not at all robust in his babyhood so his parents encouraged him in all sorts of exercise. The boy grew to be quite sturdy and took so kindly to the punching bag that he became considerable of a little pugilist. In fact, he whipped most of the boys when he first went to school. After Congressman Hopkins was elected to succeed Senator Mason the family of the latter began preparations for leaving the capital. They were discussing prospects one evening, when Roderick, after a long period of reflection, said: "Mamma, has Mr. Hopkins a boy of about my size?"

Gen. Grosvenor's Scribquet. Representative Champ Clark has a new sobriquet for Gen. Grosvenor, which he has applied in debate before the house. "Out in Ohio," says Mr. Clark, "and even beyond the confines of that state my friend bears the sobriquet of 'Old Figgers.' The other day I happened to be standing down in the hall by the postoffice. An old employe of the House was talking to a 'tenderfoot.' The General swept by in his majesty, tenderly fondling his prophet's beard, and the old employe said to the newcomer: 'There goes the stud bug of arithmetic!'
